4th Portuguese Stroke Conference

As from today, the Preliminary Programme of the 4th Portuguese Stroke Conference is available on our website.

It is formatted as the previous ones and includes subjects of greatest interest regarding prevention and treatment of stroke, addressed by Foreign and National Personalities with recognised scientific quality in the area of cerebrovascular disease.

I consider it a high-quality programme, which is an essential feature for capturing the interest of health-care professionals in general and those who are particularly dedicated to stroke.

This Conference is already one of the greatest National Conferences, and that does not surprise us, due to the context of the addressed disease and the dedication in choosing the Subjects.

Once again, we expect that the attendees seek a great enrichment in this highly important area for both practice and research on cerebrovascular disease.

Therefore, register in this event. The presence of the attendees is the best compensation for the hard work reflected on what we have done up to now.
